

Symposium on the Protection and Utilization of Site Museums

Invitation

Dear Sir/Madam:

Han Yangling Mausoleum Site Museum is one of China's first-class museums, an archeological park of national importance, a national science education base and an AAAA-grade tourist scenic area. It was built by the site of "Han Yangling Mausoleum", a key cultural relics site under State protection. Han Yangling Mausoleum Site Museum has a quite important position among Chinese cultural relic museums.

Han Yangling Mausoleum is the burial place of Emperor Jing, the fourth Emperor in Western Han Dynasty, and his wife Empress Wang. Construction of the mausoleum began in 153 BC. Han Yangling Mausoleum is not only a precious spiritual wealth of China, but also an important achievement in the development of world civilization, which still has great value today. Since the 1990s, many achievements have been obtained through a series of protection, utilization, display and research activities around the Han Yangling Tomb Site, which have made this ancient cultural heritage flourish again.

In order to inherit the history and culture, and to promote a comprehensive and in-depth development of cultural relics protection, the Symposium on the Protection and Utilization of Site Museums will be held in Xi'an on September 9-11, 2019. It aims to share and exchange the achievements and experiences in the protection and utilization of Site museums home and abroad in order to achieve sustainable development of cultural heritage protection.

The Symposium will be sponsored by the Shaanxi Provincial Cultural Relics Bureau and organized by the Han Yangling Mausoleum Site Museum.

Because of your contribution and impact in the field of cultural relics protection and exhibition, we sincerely invite you to attend this symposium.

Main topics of the symposium include:

1. Protection and utilization of large sites (including cultural relics, protection, display, engineering, planning, etc.);
2. Design, display and management of the site museums;
3. Scientific research on the protection of large sites.

Announcements:

1. Upon reception of this invitation, please be sure to confirm that you will attend this symposium on time by e-mail or telephone before February 28, 2019.
2. Participants are required to submit papers. The title of the papers should be self-explanatory. The length of the paper should be between 3,500 words – 6,000 words (including figure legends). The papers should be consistent with the theme of this symposium. Deadline for papers submission is May 20, 2019. Please submit your papers to the email address below. The papers will be published later by symposium organizers.
3. The symposium will have a keynote speaker. The list of guest speakers will be decided by the committee of the symposium based on the submitted papers, and will be sent to you by mail and/or telephone 20 days before the symposium.

Conference Email: 185317005@qq.com

Contacts : Cheng Pei 13689199023

Kong Lin 18092321518

Attachment: Participation receipt

Han Yangling Mausoleum Site Museum

February 11, 2019.

Han Yangling Symposium on the Protection and Utilization of Site Museums

Participation receipt

(Conference email: 185317005@qq.com)

Name		Age		Gender		Ethnicity
Nationality & Institution
Title			Professional Title
Tel			Email
Address			Schedule		Arrival time
					Departure time
Airport Pickup	Yes	No	Others				